Observation Schedule of Criticism Class

OBSERVATION SCHEDULE OF CRITICISM CLASS BY THE LIAISON P.A.S

Lesson template:- The lesson was all about the constituent particles of an atom which the teacher presented before students through the scientist who discovered these particles. The lesson was well arranged and progressive.

Set induction:- The teacher did not clean the blackboard and also did not write the subject name. Teacher introduced the concepts through a picture of scientist who discovered the concept.

Development of the lesson:- After each concept, teacher provided an activity book to be filled by the teacher. Teacher explained the experiments conducted by the scientists to discover the particles. Teacher presented each concept in an attractive manner with connection to real life incidents and experiences.

Learning experiences:- Teacher provided activities after each concept. The activity book provided by the teacher was interesting. Teacher provided facial similes to electron, proton and neutron which was very attractive.

Learner involvement:- There were no activities given by the teacher for the learners to develop a concept themselves. But teacher made sure that they understood the concepts through an activity book. All the students actively participated in filling the activity book.

Use of audio visual aids:- The teacher did not use any ICT equipments. Also teacher didn't stick the images of the scientists.

Mastery of the subject matter:- The teacher could have explained more about the alpha coil experiment. Teacher showed an excellent mastery over the content.

Classroom management:- Teacher had an excellent sound modulation capacity and showed excellent skill in managing the classroom.

Closure of the lesson:- Teacher concluded the class by providing chart that to be filled by the learners which contains ideas about all the concepts taught in the class.

Assessment and Evaluation:- Teacher did formative assessment and gave the student a followup activity.
